PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear Friends.

It is with much gratitude and pride that I write this final letter for the President's Report after having had the honor of serving the last 17 years as president of St. Joseph's College.

This time last year, we were recovering from the devastating aftermath of Hurricane Sandy. With so many of our students, faculty, staff and alumni affected by the superstorm, we knew that SJC had to give back in an impactful and meaningful way, which is why we established the Hurricane Sandy Student Relief Fund to help students who were most deeply affected by the storm stay in school. The fund, which raised approximately $265,000, was distributed to eligible student applicants from both campuses. We truly made a difference in their lives, and for that I thank you.

Superstorm Sandy was incredibly eye opening and reminded us of the importance of being proactive in our efforts to make a positive impact on society each and every day. In keeping with its mission, SJC introduced our new Institute for Hospitality and Tourism Management in response to the region's growing need for future jobs and partnerships in the hospitality industry. The mission of the Institute is to provide a leading voice in the discussion of responsible hospitality as a critical component to running a successful enterprise, while seeking to prepare students for professional careers in this growing field. We hope it will make a positive impact, not only on our local region, but on the global community as well. The College also added a new B.S. in Hospitality and Tourism Management program to its curriculum on both campuses; it is the only four-year HTM degree program on Long Island.

As a result of all our hard work and efforts in the HTM arena, SJC recently received a $1 million grant from the New York State Regional Economic Development Council to help market and expand this exciting new program. This wonderful achievement will enable us to make significant capital improvements on the Long Island Campus to accommodate the new program, which, in turn, will enable it to develop and grow.

For more than a decade, U.S. News & World Report has consistently recognized SJC as an outstanding college in the region, this year placing us in the top third of the region in its 2014 rankings of best colleges. The College was also ranked 15th in the north in U.S. News' inaugural list as one of the best colleges for veterans. Moreover, for the sixth consecutive year, SJC was ranked in the top half of institutions nationwide in Forbes' online issue of "America's Best Colleges," and was also ranked by Washington Monthly as No. 31 on this year's list of 349 Best-Bang-for-the-Buck Colleges in America.

As we approach our centennial in 2016, I am confident that, during these challenging but exciting days, the future of SJC will be prosperous.

Thank you all for your continued interest in and support of St. Joseph's College. I thank you for all your faith and friendship. May you have a successful year, and may God bless you.

Sincerely,

Siste Elizabeth A. Hill, cay

Mirna's commitment to helping others has been present throughout her entire life. As a child, she would help organize fundraisers and volunteer on a regular basis. Deeply inspired by her parents, who grew up in Guatemala, Mirna hopes to emulate their strength. Both of her parents have suffered from serious health issues, but they have recovered and returned to work to support their family. When Mirna graduates, she will be the first person in her family to graduate college - an accomplishment that would not have been possible without the financial support she received from the H. Joseph Bauch Scholarship she received.

"I would like to tell Ann and Clare Bauch how thankful I am for the opportunity to study at SJC. Your financial assistance is helping me become the person I hope to be, and more. If it were not for you, I would not have had the pleasure of being a part of the SJC community."

- Taylor Block '16

■ he multifaceted fundraising program at St. Joseph's College was carefully crafted with one goal in mind: to support the College's mission and unwavering commitment to integrity, spiritual and intellectual values, social responsibility and service. With our centennial now only two short years away, that commitment is stronger than ever.

To further expand an already successful fundraising program, SJC recently welcomed Rossano Rovello to its institutional advancement staff as the College's new director of gift planning and leadership gifts.

Rovello, 43, a resident of Wantagh, will lead all planned giving and major gift fundraising efforts from the Brooklyn Campus. The University at Albany graduate holds a master's degree from St. John's University, and has more than 15 years of experience in fundraising. He most recently served for five years as director of major gifts at Teachers College, Columbia University.

'At Teachers College, I had a portfolio of both major gifts and planned giving prospects, so even though my title was director of major gifts, I always had my foot in the planned giving arena," he says, adding that he actively networks with other fundraising professionals through the Philanthropic Planning Group of Greater New York (PPGGNY) to keep up with the latest trends in planned giving and major gifts.

WHAT IS PLANNED GIVING?

Planned gifts support scholarships and capital projects, and can offer immediate and deferred tax advantages, as well as an increased income and effective rates of return. As the College approaches its second century, planned gifts will provide important resources for a new era of intellectual discovery and educational opportunities.

Planned giving is important for the endowment of our College," Rovello "These kinds of gifts will play a major role in assuring our financial stability. The larger the endowment, the better off the College will be."

The two most popular vehicles for planned giving, he explains, are pequests and charitable gift annuities. "Those two vehicles are going to be the lion's share of income from donors" he says.

brough a bequest, donors can give a specific dollar amount to the college (a simple bequest), or leave a percentage of their estates to the College after all other parties in their wills have received their shares. Bequests can be made unrestricted, or directed to a specific purpose, uch as a scholarship or capital projects on campus. Your assets remain n your control during your lifetime, and you can modify your gift to ddress changing circumstances.

haritable giving annuities are popular because they enable donors receive a dependable income, often at a higher interest rate than tocks, CDs or savings accounts, and receive an immediate income tax eduction for a portion of the gift.

"A charitable gift annuity is the simplest of all planned giving vehicles, outside of a bequest," Rovello says. Through this method, a donor can transfer cash or securities to St. Joseph's College. In return, the College pays that donor and a spouse, or any two beneficiaries, a fixed income for life.

Rovello is prepared to work with every potential donor to help determine which planned giving vehicle is right for them, ensuring their goals are met and that the gifts they choose to make are optimally beneficial for all parties involved.

"You have to develop a relationship with every donor," Rovello says, "and I think a great way to do it is to get them dreaming about what kind of impact they can make at St. Joseph's." He offers a hypothetical question to both current and prospective donors: "If money were no object, what would you like to accomplish at St. Joseph's College?"

"When you pose that question to donors," he explains, "you can work backwards to craft a planned gift, and it gets them thinking big, instead of thinking that they're a little fish in a big pond. They're not; they're a big fish in a big pond.

"I look forward to working with current Aquinas Society members to articulate the legacy they want to leave at St. Joseph's College. They can establish a scholarship or support a capital project. Since almost 80 percent of the students here receive at least some form of financial aid, most of our current members have already expressed an interest in establishing scholarships with their estate gifts."

LOOKING AHEAD

Rovello has already begun to expand the College's planned giving efforts in preparation for the centennial.

"I'm looking to establish a planned giving program through strong and informative marketing. I hope to build a program where I can go out and meet with individual donors and host informational seminars about estate planning and different types of planned giving vehicles. Our donors need to know how their gifts can be beneficial to them and to the College.

"There is a lot of potential for planned giving at St. Joseph's. With a large part of the constituency in Brooklyn being of retirement age they are already involved in estate planning. Planned giving, for the most part, is for people 70 and older, but a lot of times the conversation starts at the age of 55. Even in our Aquinas Society, we have people in their 40s who have told us that they have provided for St. Joseph's either in their will, through a simple bequest or through their retirement account.

"There are a lot of people who loved being at St. Joseph's. For many of our alumni, SJC changed their lives. I look forward to working with them to help change the life of the College."

To learn more about how to set up a planned gift, visit www.legacy.vg/sjcny, or contact Rossano Rovello directly at 718.940.5579 or rrovello@sjcny.edu.

THE END OF AN ERA

Reflecting on the presidency of S. Elizabeth A. Hill or all of us at St. Joseph's, helping to honor one of the most esteemed members of our College community has been a focal point of this school year.

As S. Elizabeth A. Hill, C.S.J., J.D., enters her last semester as president of St. Joseph's College, we examine the life and legacy of one of our greatest leaders. Within these pages lies a testament to the foresight, fortitude and passion of the fifth president of SJC.

On November 8, we welcomed nearly 500 guests to the Crest Hollow Country Club in Woodbury, where the College paid tribute to S. Elizabeth at our 31st annual Scholarship Gala. It was, by far, the largest turnout in the event's history. Thanks to the many donations received that night, we were able to create the S. Elizabeth A. Hill Scholarship Fund.

For those fortunate among us to know S. Elizabeth, it's fitting that such a thoughtful fund be established to honor her legacy. Every donation raised will directly assist students in need, a practice that has been at the heart of St. Joseph's College's mission since 1916.

We are thankful for our community members who, under the steadfast leadership of S. Elizabeth, have helped our students succeed in higher education and beyond. There is little doubt that current and future generations at St. Joseph's College will flourish because of the generosity of a prodigious and influential woman.

S. Elizabeth, on behalf of our students, faculty and staff, St. Joseph's sincerely appreciates all you have done and continue to do for the College. We celebrate you and your legacy, now and forever.

S. Elizabeth A. Hill, C.S.J., J.D.

One of the region's most influential women, S. Elizabeth A. Hill, C.S.J., J.D., has been president of St. Joseph's College since 1997.

A Brooklyn native, S. Elizabeth graduated magna cum laude from St. Joseph's in 1964. She received an M.A. in History from Columbia University and studied theology and scripture in Rome under the auspices of The Pontifical Gregorian University. S. Elizabeth also received a J.D. from St. John's University School of Law, where she was a Thomas More Scholarship student and president of the Criminal Law Institute. After receiving her J.D., S. Elizabeth spent time as a staff attorney for Catholic Migration Services in Brooklyn. Prior to being named president, S. Elizabeth served as executive assistant to St. Joseph's previous president, S. George Aquin O'Connor, C.S.J., from 1980 to 1997.

Since her inauguration, S. Elizabeth has overseen the expansion of two campuses, most notably the construction of the state-of-the-art Business Technology Center and the 24.8-acre Outdoor Field Complex on the Long Island Campus, and the launch of a comprehensive capital master plan for the Brooklyn Campus that included a 44,000-square-foot athletic facility. Under her leadership, the College's enrollment and range of academic offerings have continuously increased, while tuition has remained consistently among the lowest in the New York metropolitan area.

During her tenure as president, S. Elizabeth secured several large grants from the federal government, including the largest in the College's history. She was also responsible for securing successful major gifts, including a bequest of $4 million to endow scholarships for students in need.

- S. Elizabeth has been the recipient of numerous awards and accolades for her leadership and lifelong dedication to the field of education. Among some of her many accomplishments, she was named a Woman Sustaining the American Spirit by New York State Sen. Velmanette Montgomery and a Woman of Distinction by the late New York State Sen. Caesar Trunzo. She is a three-time recipient of Long Island Business News' Top 50 Most Influential Women in Business award for her consistent record as one of the region's most important and influential women, making her a Hall of Fame Honoree, and was also named to that publication's Who's Who in Education list. S. Elizabeth was awarded a Doctor of Humane Letters, honoris causa, from St. Francis College for her numerous charitable works and contributions as a leader in higher education and in the Brooklyn and Long Island communities. Most recently, she was presented with a Lifetime Achievement Award in the field of Higher Education by Advancement for Commerce, Industry and Technology.
- S. Elizabeth is on the steering committee of the Long Island Regional Advisory Council on Higher Education (LIRACHE) and sits on the board of ERASE Racism. She is on the board of directors of the Brooklyn Chamber of Commerce and the Fort Greene Strategic Neighborhood Action Partnership (SNAP). She is also a member of the board of trustees of The Mary Louis Academy and the board of advisors for Saint Saviour High School.

Why I Give

"The summer after I graduated from St. Joseph's I was asked by my godmother, fellow SJC graduate Mary Murphy '83, to attend a function with her at an alumna's home in Belle Harbor. At that luncheon was S. Elizabeth Hill. In a conversation, I mentioned to Sister a plan on getting my master's degree and looking for a job that would allow me to do this. No less than two days later, my phone rang and Carol Sullivan from financial aid called me to say there was an opportunity in her office. I worked at SJC for nearly three years and saw an institution in which helping their students was so ingrained in its very structure that the legal counsel (and soon president) of the College would recall and act on a conversation with an alumnus.

"Places such as SJC and the people who care for the students are hard to find and so valuable. And that's why I give back."

– John Fitzgerald '93 Board Member, St. Joseph's College Brooklyn Alumni Association

Give .Why I

"I was exposed to the possibility of a superior education by religious women who in the late 1940s were ahead of their time.

"I am grateful for the encouragement and support I received which expanded my horizons and allowed me to work to my potential with dignity.

"With gratitude in my heart, it is a joy to be able to help others experience academic excellence, to develop a deep desire and obligation to make their world a better place."

- Wilma B. Kohler '50

PLANNED GIVING

Contact:

Rossano Rovello Director of Gift Planning and Leadership Gifts 718.940.5579 • rrovello@sjcny.edu to learn more about:

LIFE INCOME GIFTS

There are a number of gift vehicles that provide donors with income, flexibility and tax benefits, as well as providing a benefit to the College. We can work with you and your adviser to create an appropriate gift plan.

BEQUEST INTENTIONS

A provision for St. Joseph's College in your estate plans assures that your legacy will endure beyond your lifetime. A bequest in your will is a simple way to support the work of the College. This has no lifetime cost and your estate will earn a charitable estate tax deduction for the total value of your gift.

For more information on life income gifts, bequests and other planned-giving vehicles, visit www.legacy.vg/sjcny.

MATCHING GIFTS

Many companies will match charitable contributions made by their employees and retirees. For more information, contact:

Kimberly Tuthill Branach, Manager of Annual Giving 718.940.5572 • kbranach@sjcny.edu

Kelly Cortes, Manager of Alumni Giving 631.687.5197 • kcortes@sjcny.edu

GIFTS OF MARKETABLE SECURITIES

The most efficient way to transfer securities to SJC is by electronic transfer. For more information, contact: Kimberly Tuthill Branach, Manager of Annual Giving 718.940.5572 • kbranach@sjcny.edu

You can also find information on securities by visiting our planned-giving website at www.legacy.vg/sjcny. St. Joseph's DTC number is 0352.

GIFTS OF CASH

DONATE ONLINE Visit alumni.sjcny.edu/givenow.

Give. Why I

"1) Not only did my SJC scholarship make college more affordable, but it gave me the financial ability to pursue and earn my Juris Doctor. I know my donation will have a similar impact on a current student.

"2) I enjoy watching all of my investments grow – that includes the value of my college degree.

"3) It's just another way to give back to a college that has already given me so much."

Why I Give

"Not only was I the first in my family to attend college; I was the only one among my playmates growing up in a blue-collar neighborhood in Queens to attend college.

"My parents' encouragement and sacrifices to make college a possibility for me clearly set the example for moving ahead educationally. However, it was the experience at SJC that helped me to attain my goals.

"I give to SJC because I feel that it is important that other young students receive the kind of education that I had, not only academic education, but education for life — an understanding of what is important in life and the tools to achieve it. The professors know and care about all of the students; each student is unique and is treated as such. SJC provides an environment for all students to actualize their potential and to achieve their goals."

Why I Give

"As a first-generation college goer in the late 1950s, and with few financial resources, I chose St. Joseph's because it was Catholic and offered an affordable quality education. I entered with little more than the dream of becoming a teacher, and the knowledge that education was a key to success. At St. Joseph's I was able to realize my dream and learn invaluable lessons for life.

"Ever mindful that my education was truly an extraordinary gift, I am pleased and honored to give to the College. Giving allows me to say thank you for your gift, and to share the gift with today's students who need the support."

– Mary T. Collins Macchiarola '62 Board Member, St. Joseph's College Brooklyn Alumni Association

Give a Gift That Gives Back

A charitable gift annuity is more than a gift to the mission of St. Joseph's College — it's a gift that provides a fixed income for you and your loved ones for the rest of your life. Your charitable contribution helps St. Joseph's to ensure low costs while maintaining a standard of excellence.

To receive a customized example showing what a charitable gift annuity can do for you, please contact Rossano Rovello, director of gift planning and leadership gifts, at 718.940.5579 or rrovello@sjcny.edu.
